This Mission Dining-Room Suite

Finish

The Price, $44.50

Construction

Consisting of Buffet, Extension Table, five Diners and an Arm-Chair. All made of solid oak, Fumed Oak finish. Price $44.50. Terms to suit your convenience. The suite is made of all oak.

The Fumed Oak finish is particularly well adapted to Oak, and nothing could be more suitable for a Mission Style. Further, in the modern flats, the woodwork in the dining room is, in many cases, Fumed Oak. This proves conclusively that the builders have confidence in the fact that Fumed Oak is a desirable finish and is here to stay.

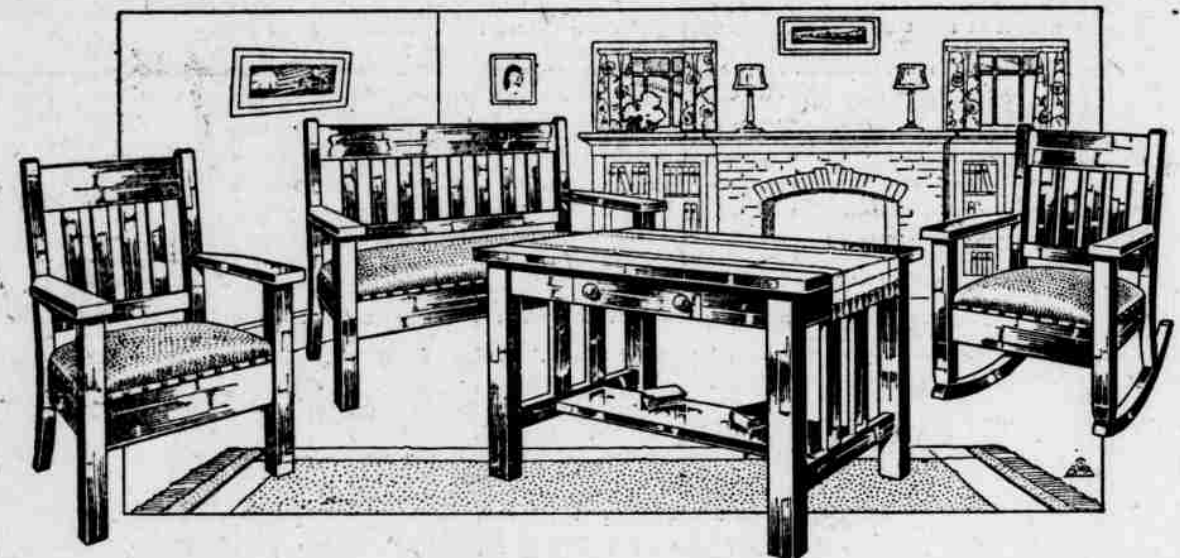

When you take into consideration the fact that this set is comprised of a six-foot Extension Table, Buffet and six Chairs, the statement that the price is about half its actual value does not seem unreasonable, and we do not hesitate to say that nothing of equal value has ever been offered. Bought in the regular way, the price would figure as follows: Buffet, $26.00; Table, $14.00; Set of Chairs, $18.00; making a total of $58.00. You may therefore readily calculate the saving that this low price affords.

We lay great stress on the fact that every piece embodied in this Dining Room Suite is built in a workmanlike manner. Shoddily made furniture is not cheap at any price and we can assure you that in the building of this set no detail has been overlooked. The cabinet work is first class, and the general stability of the suite warrants a lifetime of service,—nothing but selected oak lumber is used in its construction.

A Complete Roomful of Furniture for $19.75

All Four Pieces Made According to Our Own Order

They Are Made of Heavy Oak Stock Fumed Finish

But that is not the important feature about this offer, although remarkable in itself. It's the high quality of this roomful of furniture that we wish to emphasize, for while there have been offers that might have approached this in the number of pieces included none ever contained furniture of the same quality under one-third more than this outfit costs.

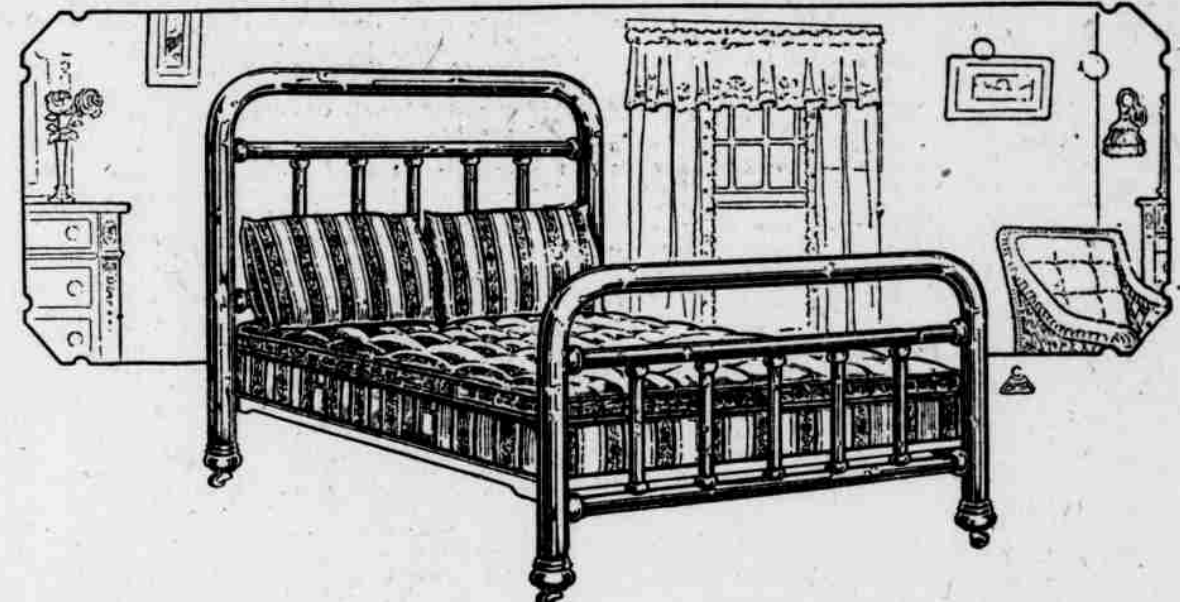

We know every process by which these outfits were made—in fact saw them in process of manufacture. That's what makes us so emphatic about their quality and so proud in being able to sell them at this extremely unusually low price, and especially at such low credit terms.

Every inch of the frames of chair, rocker, settee and table is of genuine solid oak and all cut from heavy stock. The finish was applied only by expert finishers who specialize in fumed oak finishes and know how.

SEVEN FAIRS IN STATE CALLED OFF

Hartford, Sept. 1.—The state board of agriculture at a meeting held at the Capitol this week, made final assignments of delegates appointed by the executive committee to visit, inspect and report upon each agricultural exhibition in the state this fall. The list of fairs this year will not be as large as originally expected, as the managements in seven towns, it developed yesterday, had decided to call off the fairs, principally because of the epidemic of infantile paralysis. Fairs have been called off by the Goshen Agricultural Society, Chester Agricultural and Mechanical Society, East Haddam Grange Association, Norfolk Agricultural Association, Inc., Washington Fair Corporation, Salisbury Association, Inc., and the Colchester Fair Association. According to letters sent to the management of each fair association, rigid efforts will be made to eliminate games of chance. Delegates discovering violations have been instructed to inform fair officials. If offenders are not removed by the management the delegate will not be able to recommend the appropriation which is due to a fair under the state laws. The state board this year has asked the fair managements to make every effort to eliminate indecent shows. Cooperation has been asked in the work to bar all such "sideshow" from every fair in the state. The state board seeks to impress upon the management the importance of making the fairs successful from an agricultural standpoint primarily. Newman Erb resigned as president of the Minneapolis & St. Louis Railroad. The British steamer Tongararo was wrecked off Portland Island, New Zealand.

THE CORBETT BROTHERS
The sporting and theatrical friends of James J. Corbett will tender congratulations to-day, the occasion being the passing of the half-century mark by "Gentleman Jim." The cleverest of modern heavyweight champs was born in San Francisco on Sept. 1, 1866. Jim was a bank clerk in his tender youth, but he nursed the ambition to become a professional ball player. His kid brother, Joe, was as buggy about boxing as Jim was about baseball. Fate mixed the cards on them, however, and it was Jim who attained laurels and kate as a pugilist, while Joe became one of the star twirlers of the National League with the old Baltimore Orioles. Joe was given a try-out by the San Francisco Seals last spring, but his attempted come-back was a failure, although he did fair work in the box at times.

BRIEF NEWS NOTES
An American tourist likes to see ruins, but the European fighters are overdoing the production of this attraction for his entertainment. It is about time for the barbarous nations of the world to interfere and stop the civilized powers from killing each other off completely.
